Supervisors Seek New Hospital Bids; No Plan Revisions

Advertisement with provisions for separate or combined electrical, mechanical and general contracting for construction of the proposed Hancock County Hospital began today, order of the Board of Supervisors which met Monday rejecting the first bids and Friday. No revision of was made.

project, was present. In the latter instance, the meeting was closed to the public while Dawson read some information to be labeled as confidential pertaining to the plans and specifications.

Before the meeting, Sam L. Farve Jr., board attorney, had telephoned Foster Fowler, executive secretary of the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care, Dawson also spoke to Fowler.

for a second bid, with more time to prepare accurate cost estimates. Another contractor, who did not bid Friday, is reported to have waited purposely for re-advertisement, in order to have time to submit a more complete bid statement.

Opening of the advertised bids will be after April 23, final date of publication.

A $23,596.25 bid by Mississippi Road Supply Co., of Jackson was accepted for construction of a general county dragline Friday. Southern Equipment Sales, Inc., of Jackson submitted a successful bid of $850 for a grader for use in Districts 1 and 5.

Other dragline bids were $19,973.20 by Mississippi Road Supply Co., $17,428 and $24,710 by Southern Equipment Sales Inc., $19,750 by Allied Equipment Inc., Jackson; $22,252.96 by Aldridge Harbor Equipment Co. Inc., Jackson.

For U.S. 90 Relief State Road Head Gives Little Hope

Letters received in the last two weeks from State Highway Commissioner John D. Smith offered slim hope of any relief to the traffic accident potential along U. S. 90 in Hancock County through four-laning of the road to the Louisiana border.

Smith wrote in reply to letters from Henry Osinach, president of the Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce, and Fred Quint, vice president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, indicating that improvements to U. S. 90 will be discarded in favor of the proposed Interstate Route 10.

Osinach had notified the commissioner of the Coast Council's unanimous resolution of March 18 seeking a definite answer to when four-laning of U.S. 90 from the Louisiana line to Bay St. Louis would begin. He cited the bottleneck created for the tourist trade because of the two-lane stretch and noted a four-lane road has been promised the three coastal counties for a number of years.

The Coast Chamber head also is soliciting the support of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce in this project, noting that the highway is the major artery for both the people of that city and the Gulf Coast. Osinach suggested that the New Orleans group might be interested in seeking a four-lane road from the Louisiana line to Rigolets.

In this communication, Quint observed that various civic groups on the coast have heard Smith promise the four-laning on three separate occasions. He listed the dedication of the Bay St. Louis bridge, the overpass at Ocean Springs and the Pascagoula bridge dedication.

"We are planning a campaign, with the help of the Mississippi Safety Council, to lessen the alarming number of highway accidents in this area," Quint added.

In his letter to Quint, Smith said that four-laning of the present U. S. 90 originally had been planned as rapidly as funds would permit. Congressional approval of the Interstate Highway program in June, 1956, however, brought about a revision in this thinking and it is now contemplated that Interstate 10 will replace U.S. 90 across the three coastal counties, Smith continued. "The new highway will be located north of all the towns in these three counties," he added.

"We are presently spending our Interstate money on U. S. 11 from Laurel to Hattiesburg and to Purvis," the commissioner continued. "We do not know at this time when work will begin on the Interstate Highway 10 in your area as these roads were planned to be built in a period ranging from 13 to 17 years."

While he acknowledged that old U.S. 90 in Hancock County has sufficient traffic now to justify four-laning, Smith said it would not be needed after the Interstate route is constructed, therefore the work did not appear financially practical.

He added that his office is greatly interested in a safety campaign and expressed hope he might work with local authorities to that end.

Replying to Osinach's inquiry, the commissioner wrote that he was unable to say when construction of "Interstate Highway 90" would be undertaken for three reasons: a state law prohibits building another highway to take traffic off old U.S. 90 until the bonds for the Bay St. Louis toll bridge have been paid for; it is estimated that 13 to 17 years will be required to build the Interstate highway network in all states, and federal money provided for construction of these roads has all been practically

Conversion of Reed For Retirement Home Is Scheduled May 1

The Hotel Reed, one of the landmarks of the Mississippi Gulf Coast since its erection during the boom of the 1920s, is to be converted into a retirement home for the elderly on May 1.

Announcement of successful conclusion of the negotiations which have been in progress for some months and have stirred wide speculation was made late Wednesday by Dr. W. L. McFarland, Bay St. Louis general practitioner who is secretary-treasurer of the new company which will operate it.

Purchase of the hotel from J. G. Hogue, Gulfport businessman, is being handled by Dantagan Realty Company. No disclosure was made of the price.

The 47-room brick building has been approved by Mississippi public health authorities to accommodate 94 guests. Few alterations will be needed in the conversion, Dr. McFarland says, but he does plan to install walk down fire escapes from the upper story as an added protection. State health officials already have inspected the property twice in granting approval for its new use, including a visit from the engineers.

The retirement home will be staffed by registered and practical nurses around the clock, a dietitian and full-time medical coverage will be supplied by Dr. McFarland to those guests needing it. Most of the present staff will be retained, the physician indicated, and a number of others will be added to meet the needs of those who will live there. Operation of the Reed as a

Dr. McFarland Will Address Chamber Dinner Group Picks 2 Projects

The general membership dinner of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is slated for April 8 at 7 p.m. at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Wesley McFarland who is to discuss details for converting the Hotel Reed into a retirement home. Reservations for the dinner, at $1 per person, should be made with the chamber secretary, Mrs. Mabel Green, at HO7-4252, by Monday.

Two projects - beautification and long range municipal planning - were chosen by the small group which attended Monday night's kickoff meeting of the 1959 Hometown Development Program.

Eight persons who answered the call of Chamber of Commerce chairman of the program, Henry Osinach, agreed that the last two programs encompassed too broad a scope when they included as many as five projects. All local organizations had been asked to send a representative for the session to select projects before the April 1 deadline to file a report with the state.

Beautification is required according to rules of the program. Participating cities also must choose between municipal or county planning or youth program improvement.

Industrial development of the city cannot be accomplished, Osinach noted, until certain basic improvements have been made. An expert survey of community problems and needs also is necessary, he added. Mrs. Willard Gagnier, representing Knights of Columbus ladies auxiliary, had asked of the possibility of bringing more industry to the community.

Mayor John A. Seafide said the city would be grateful for the assistance which the program might give to urban development. He noted that the Bay St. Louis already had applied for

County-wide Call Out for Blood Donors Wednesday

The first county-wide blood drawing in almost a year is scheduled Wednesday from 2 to 7 p.m. at the Youth Center in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Maurice Martin, publicity chairman for the Hancock County Blood Bank, has announced.

She is mailing out more than 50 letters to individuals who have contributed previously as well as those who have received blood asking the latter category to send in someone to replace what they used.

Mrs. Mary Wright, blood bank technologist at the Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans, will bring personnel with her to handle the drawing and they will be assisted by local registered nurses and other qualified personnel. Physicians will be in attendance at all times during the drawing hours.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 21 years may give blood only with their parent's consent. Donations will not be taken from anyone with high or low blood pressure. Potential contributors are requested not to partake of any alcoholic beverages for from four to six hours preceding the drawing.

The blood will be stored at the Ochsner hospital and will be available for Hancock County's needs from there.

Free passes to the Star and A and G Theaters will be given to each donor.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Martin announced that the county blood bank will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the Knights of Columbus. She urged heads of all organizations throughout Hancock County to send a representative to this session, noting that there is a tremendous amount of work entailed in preparing for the draw-

Fund Lag Threatens Red Cross

Closing of the Hancock County Red Cross chapter offices is threatened until the 1959 fund campaign reaches its goal of $3,752.

That was the word today from Kenneth Pepperdine, regional fund chairman for the American Red Cross and vice chairman of the local chapter.

Only about $1,800 was raised during the annual campaign last month, it was disclosed at a meeting of drive officials Wednesday. Pepperdine said that sum will not permit continued operation of local facilities which are now in their 25th year.

In an effort to avert the necessity to close the office, the campaign will be extended through April, the regional officer said.

Primary Field Grows With More Candidates

Political excitement mounts with eight additions this week to the list of candidates filed for election in the August 4 Democratic primary, said the office of Clerk of Courts A. C. Mitchell.

Deadline for filing is July 3, four months before the general election Nov. 3.

Three newly revealed candidates for Board of Supervisors are Carl (Mutt) Miller, Logtown, District 1; I. M. (Ike) Frierson, Piquette, District 2; and Burton D. (Flip) Johnson, Bay St. Louis, District 5.

Nolan S. Ladner, District 5 JP, has filed for sheriff and tax collector.

Joseph (Uncle Joe) Hellscher, 146 Burnett St., Bay St. Louis, filed for District 5 JP. Joseph E. Bennett, present District 1 JP, has filed for constable in that district.

Jervis Moran of Cathoula filed his candidacy this week for Beat 4 Constable, the post now held by Marvin Bobinger.

A shipyard worker in New Orleans, Moran is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Moran with whom he resides. He attended the Kiln School and is a member of the Catholic Church.

Gerald V. Price who was defeated by a narrow margin in the run-off for sheriff four years ago made his formal announcement of candidacy for that post during the week.

Payadou Charged In Police Scuffle

A young sailor involved in a March 26 scuffle with City Patrolman Julius Webre was charged Wednesday with obstructing and impeding an officer and assault and battery.

Robert C. Payadou, 20, stationed at San Diego, Calif., was shot in the leg by Patrolman Webre after he became involved in a struggle between Webre and Frank Schoonmaker, 19, of Washington Road.

Schoonmaker, who had argued with the patrolman over a speeding ticket, was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. Schoonmaker waived preliminary hearing before JP Nolan S. Ladner, originally scheduled for 3 p.m. today, through his attorney, Robert L. Gennin, and will go before the September grand jury. He is released on $500 bond.

Payadou will be tried at 10 a.m. Monday before Mayor John A. Seafide.

Cancer Crusade Chairman Asks Volunteer Workers

Volunteers are needed to help fund this month's Cancer Crusade, which opened today, reports Mrs. Lewis Martin, Hancock County chairman for the crusade.

County-wide goal this year is $10,000, Mrs. Martin said. "Actually our goal is two-fold," she added, "since we must raise funds for research, educational and service programs and we must educate others in learning to fight cancer with a "checkup and a check."

Pointing to the need for funds she noted, "It has been necessary for the Mississippi Division to use funds from a pathetically small surplus to aid indigent patients. Thousands of adults and children died last year from leukemia and other presently incurable forms of cancer and the toll will be heavy this year."

Potential volunteer workers should contact Mrs. Wagner.

Warrant Issued In Bar Knifing

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man suspected of involvement in the knifing of a Nicholson man March 28 in the Blockhouse Bar near the Hancock County line.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. said he had uncovered no other clues to the identity of the man who slashed Joe Smith three times across the abdomen and across the neck while two of the injured man's friends were in another room.

Smith, who was rushed to Crosby Memorial Hospital, Piquette, in critical condition is listed as improved.

Weather

Cooler tomorrow is predicted, and the weekend temperature is expected to be slightly below normal with some scattered showers.

To Attend Dinner

Local representatives at a district meeting of Mississippi Municipal Association tonight at the Hotel Marham, Gulfport, will include Mayor and Mrs. John A. Seafide, Commissioner and Mrs. Warren Traub, Commissioner J. Cyril Glover, Mr. and Mrs. James DeBlanc, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Maufrey and Mrs. Mabel Green.

Public Facts Kept Secret

Like almost all newspapers the Echo will usually be critical of executive sessions of public bodies. They are lawful, but secret proceedings, and that is what executive sessions are, are a dangerous practice, dangerous to the public, that is.

Elsewhere on this page is an editorial from the Lynchburg (Va.) Daily Advance giving an illustration of an unusual session when most of the interested newspapers felt an executive session was justified. Another illustration of an executive session, justified in the Echo's opinion, occurred Tuesday in Bay St. Louis at the meeting of Hancock County's Board of Supervisors.

The Echo feels that justified executive, or secret, sessions usually fall in two categories. The first, and more frequent, is when the question of spending public monies is involved and public knowledge of the prospect might raise the price and thereby hurt the public's pocketbook. If the owner of a piece of property knows a city, county, or what have you, wants to buy his particular property the price is likely to jump. The Echo thinks that this week's board meeting dealing with the prospective county hospital may well have fallen in this category.

The second not infrequent type of usually justified secret meeting arises when some varieties of personnel problems need to be discussed. A little reluctantly the Echo goes along with this exception because of the possibility that during the discussion by the members of the board, council, commission, or similar body, something might be said that, if publicized, would unfairly, unnecessarily and unintentionally do real harm to some person, usually a public employee.

Except when the Echo believes that an executive session is held for one of the reasons vaguely outlined above or due to some very rare cause, this paper will publicize and criticize any public body holding one. It will do so because universal experience has shown such to be the most effective method available to protect the public from careless or stupid officials.

All Need To Know

A father dies of cancer—or perhaps a mother, a son or a daughter. Published on this page today is a letter from a Bay resident, a daughter whose father passed away last month due to cancer. Neither he nor his family knew enough to have his symptoms diagnosed in time. There is not an uncommon case. Too many of us, doctors included, are not enough alerted to the "seven danger signals" to seek a physician's aid before it is too late.

This letter from the daughter is appropriate at this time. The American Cancer Society's annual Crusade opened yesterday. In Hancock County the citizens are asked to contribute $1,100, a paucity sum when one realizes that frequently this amount would pay only a small part of the hospital and doctor's bills of one victim. It amounts to less than eight cents per resident of this county, and probably the majority of households in Hancock County have in one manner or another had a direct personal contact with cancer, and the majority of these learned too late what an early diagnosis and treatment might have meant.

The plague of cancer—a word that was taboo to many until recent years—can be cured, but only through the complete support of every person, financial and otherwise. If you can not afford to contribute ten cents to the American Cancer Society, and there are many who can not, contribute a dollar or more of your time. Anyone can do that.

The Bay Will Miss

The long-time rumored sale of the Hotel Reed was disclosed last night although certain formalities may still be required. For a while, apparently through this summer, it will still operate on a limited basis as a hotel.

With the completion of the new highway and the increased use of motels by the public the Reed as a hotel was doomed. It just could not make a satisfactory profit.

Recognizing in part the economics of the problem, the Echo still regrets the prospective loss to the Bay area of the Hotel Reed as a hotel. Its food is above average, it provides an above average place for overflow guests of Bay residents and is the primary lunch and dinner meeting place in Bay St. Louis. Perhaps in its future operation it can still be a lunch and dinner meeting place.

The Echo wishes the new management of the Reed success in its venture, but even though the change may be for the economic good of the area, the Echo believes Bay St. Louis will miss the Hotel Reed. Progress is not necessarily pleasant.

IN DEFENSE OF SECRECY

"Perry Group Holds Another Closed Session."

This headline yesterday introduced the following three-sentence story on the deliberations of one of the most important bodies ever organized to deal with a Virginia problem:

RICHMOND (AP)—The Perry commission spent six hours Tuesday in another closed session, apparently devoted to discussion of possible new laws that might prevent or minimize racial integration in Virginia's public schools.

State Sen. Mosby G. Perrow Jr., of Lynchburg, commission chairman, told reporters after the meeting he could not disclose any part of the day's proceedings.

The commission meets again at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Stories like the above have been the rule rather than the exception since Governor Almond's education commission swung into action. Senator Perrow announced the behind-closed-doors approach at the outset and has followed it rigorously.

Oddly enough, there hasn't been a great deal of comment one way or the other on what may appear to be unjustified "secrecy" at a high government level. The newspapers, deprived of scores of columns of lively and juicy copy, have for the most part laid off this temptation to blast away at a favorite theme: freedom of information.

One of the few "secrecy" protests has come, in fact, from a commission member, State Sen. Breeden of Norfolk said the other day he thought that recommendations by the commission's nine subcommittees should be released to the press, blow by blow. He said it would be good to have public reaction before a final report is made.

Are the best interests of Virginians being served by Senator Perrow's "secrecy" policy? Would we be attacking the problem more intelligently by opening all commission sessions to the communications media and thus keeping every school patron and taxpayer right up to the last minute on what those forty men have on their minds?

For once anyhow we'll buy the Perrow closed-doors policy.

It would be nice—from our viewpoint—to have a voluminous file day after day on the State's hottest issue in a century. But we are convinced that the formulation of a feasible, long-range course for the Commonwealth to follow in this school crisis would inevitably suffer.

The Perrow Commission on Education is first and last a STUDY group; its function is to explore possibilities, to kick around ideas, to test the validity of divergent viewpoints, to suggest, propose, and recommend. The presence of cameras, microphones, portables and penfense. Every member of this body must recognize that the objective of balancing the budget is his most important assignment.

3. Sectionalism, partisanship, politics, responsiveness to highly organized minorities, must give way to the national need for a sound financial policy.

4. Every dollar appropriated must be considered as carefully as if it were coming out of the pockets of the members themselves, as indeed the members' proportionate share is.

5. Our Congressional committees, particularly the appropriation committees, must be staffed with an adequate staff of experts equal in efficiency to the staffs of the various governmental agencies who appear before them seeking appropriations.

6. The Congress and the country must recognize that financial solvency is as important as military might in preparing ourselves against any potential foreign aggressor, a fact which our military captains should be made to understand.

7. Our foreign friends must be made to understand that there is a limit to the resources of America.

8. The system of unspent funds from the current fiscal year into the new year must be abandoned. A meticulous study of the 1,200 pages of the President's budget this year will show that the carryover of unspent funds from the current fiscal year will exceed $60 billion.

9. The procurement of military requirements which constitute more than 50 per cent of our expenditures must be placed in the hands of trained civilians who appreciate the value of the dollar.

At these sessions would inspire the more valuable and articulate commissioners to mount the soapbox and communicate their convictions to the constituents back home; in effect, it would be a propaganda forum for moderates and extremists alike. The same situation would put the silence on other members who otherwise might have valuable ideas and suggestions to contribute.

No, Virginians aren't being kept in the dark by this "secrecy" business. Nobody is conjuring up a deal to overwhelm us with when the proper time comes. For one thing, the size of the commission insures against that. And all shades of opinion except all-out integrationists are represented on the body.

The public has already been given ample opportunity to air its own ideas about the dilemma. And when the General Assembly reconvenes in two weeks we can be certain that the findings and recommendations of the commission will be subjected to extensive debate and analysis in full public view, before any legislation is enacted.

Finally, it should be pointed out that the commission is making no effort to impose a veil of secrecy. Resourceful reporters are in close touch with the situation. Individual commissioners have informally revealed general outlines of procedure, and interested citizens have found little difficulty in ascertaining, in considerable detail, the various approaches being made to the problem. —Lynchburg, Va., DAILY ADVANCE.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

Since April is the period of the annual Cancer Crusade, I am writing this letter. Recently my father died of cancer. While the American Cancer Society was helpful, it is not for that I am writing. It is because if my father learned of his cancer in time he might have lived for many more years. The American Cancer Society is the organization that has stressed learning of cancer early. I don't know their budget, but from experience I know now the importance of this early knowing. What they spend on this project can't be too much for it can save many, many lives. Here's luck to their crusade.

LUTHERAN ANNIVERSARY—The Rev. Victor Moritz is shown at the altar of St. Matthew's Lutheran Mission, presently housed in a building on Uman Avenue opposite the fire house, which celebrated its fourth anniversary Easter Sunday with services at 7:30 p.m.

Lutherans Eye Property On Nicholson

The congregation of St. Matthew's Lutheran Mission is negotiating for purchase of property on Nicholson Avenue for eventual erection of its own church, it was disclosed following fourth anniversary services Easter Sunday.

The mission, which held its first worship on Easter Sunday in 1955, has used various places in the area for services since that time.

The pastor, the Rev. Victor Moritz, has been commuting from New Orleans each week to conduct the services. Born in St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5, 1924, the sixth of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moritz, he began his ministerial studies in September, 1946, at Concordia College and Seminary in Springfield, Ill. He subsequently served as student pastor and teacher for Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in San Antonio, Tex., until Aug. 1, 1951, returning to the seminary that fall and completing his studies in June, 1952.

Mr. Moritz then accepted the call of the Lutheran Synodical Missionary Board to serve in the New Orleans area and was ordained July 6, 1952, in Rolla, Mo., by the Rev. N. C. Ellerman. He was installed as pastor of Mt. Zion church in New Orleans that December. He also serves the Messiah Church in New Orleans and assisted at Bethlehem Church during a vacancy there in 1957.

aid under the urban renewal program which provides federal and state funds to complement city funds in development. A so-called workable program, outlining the improvements to be made, was a requisite to actual beginning of the program, he said.

Scarfie also noted that an improved water and sewage system is of primary importance, recalling he had urged initiation of a metered water system, as a first step in improved sewage and drainage.

Estimates by city and county engineer Enoch Kennedy are due shortly on an improved drainage system and curb and sidewalk installation for DeMottuluzin Street, the mayor said. If these figures are deemed too high by residents, the city hopes to install drainage pipes on the street between Tulane Street and Dunbar Avenue, dropping the curb and sidewalk program. These pipes would carry all but septic tank overflow, he said, thereby eliminating the problem of overloaded septic tanks carrying clear water wastes.

Pointing to the responsibility of individual citizens, Mayor Scarfie remarked that residents could petition the city to clear up neglected lots. Without a public request, the city could not clear up the lots without legal complications, he said.

Garbage still is being dumped on road shoulders despite the erecting of signs at a cost of $150, the mayor said. Reports of dumping should be made by witnesses he continued, since otherwise only circumstantial evidence is available.

Continuation of the garden club program of planting shrubbery along the highway neutral ground had been promised as part of the beautification program, said Mrs. Mabel Green, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary.

The program also will include restoration of business and residential property and land. Others attending were Mrs. Herbert Cardin, representing Hancock County Hospital Auxiliary; Mrs. Henry Prevot, representing the American Legion; Mrs. Osoinach, representing Order of Eastern Star; James De Blanc, Chamber of Commerce president; and Commissioner J. Cyril Iover, representing the City Commission.

No date was set for the next meeting, but Osoinach agreed to ask organizations once more to send representatives to assist in planning the program.

OPENING DAYS—Two automobile agencies opened in the past week, one new and one at a new location. At left Bob Bankston of Bankston Motors shows Ivan Godwin of Covington some features

Logtown Youth Killed In Wreck at Gulfport

Services for Robert M. Furey, 23, of Logtown, who was injured fatally in a wreck Thursday night at Gulfport, were Saturday in Pool Funeral Home, Slidell. Burial was in Pearllington Cemetery near Logtown.

State Patrolmen Irvin Rippey, R. E. Blackwell and Leon Burton, investigating officers, said Furey's car, a 1954 Chevrolet, was traveling west on US-90 in a light drizzle of rain when it struck a curb in front of the Veterans Administration Hospital. The driver lost control and the automobile plunged into the neutral ground, plowing through shrubbery and overturning several times.

Calvin J. Ladner

Funeral services for Calvin Joseph Ladner, 53, who died Monday, were Tuesday afternoon in the DeLoach, Harrison County residence. The body was taken from there to Newman's Funeral Home at Gulfport and then to St. William's Catholic Church where services were conducted by the Rev. John O'Brien.

Funeral services were held in the DeLoach home, where Ladner was born, on March 24, 1906. He was the son of John and Mary Ladner. He was married to Mrs. Mary Ladner. He was a member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors, besides his parents include two other brothers, John of Logtown and James M. Furey Jr., stationed with the Army at Fort Bliss, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Percy Mayeaux; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Adice Orr Sr., and paternal grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Furey, all of New Orleans.

Mrs. Spiers

Mrs. Nora Lilly Spiers, 77, of Picayune, sister of Mrs. Chester Cuevas of Bay St. Louis, died at 7 a.m. March 20 at Route 4, Box 203, where she had lived the past 12 years.

Services were at 2 p.m. March 22 in Lee Chapel No. 1 and burial was in Holloman Cemetery. Officiating were the Revs. Jim Stewart, Charlie Lee and Buford Smith.

Mrs. Sellier

Funeral services will take place at 10 a.m. Friday at Fahy Funeral Home for Mrs. Annette Saucier Sellier who died at 2 a.m. today at Memorial Hospital in Gulfport.

She was the widow of Leon P. Sellier and the mother of Woodford Sellier and Mrs. Janet Sciana of Bay St. Louis. Also surviving are two brothers, Sebastian Saucier of Gulfport and Vissal Saucier of Delisle; four sisters, Mrs. Helena Lenay of Gulfport, Miss Carolyn Saucier of Delisle, Mrs. Leticia Necaise of Delisle and Mrs. Luvenia Saucier of Bay St. Louis, and two grandchildren.

Religious services will be at 10:15 a.m. Friday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mrs. Tom Vaughn

Mrs. Tom Vaughn, Pearlridge, died Sunday night in her home at 1464 North Claiborne. She had lived at New Orleans for 25 years.

One passenger, Patrick O. Furey, 20, brother of the victim, suffered bruises, and another, Glen Dorr, about 19 of Pearllington, escaped injury.

Rushed to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, Furey was pronounced dead on arrival.

Harrison County Parkway Commission said three pyracantha bushes and a palm tree, valued at about $150, were destroyed by the plunging car.

Born May 1, 1935, Furey was the son of Mrs. D. L. Crawford of Logtown and James M. Furey of New Orleans. He was employed as a draftsman and civil engineer for a New Orleans firm operated by his uncle.

He was educated at Warren Easton High School, New Orleans and Pearl River Junior College, Poplarville, before enlisting in the Air Force. His discharge was in January. He was a member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors, besides his parents include two other brothers, John of Logtown and James M. Furey Jr., stationed with the Army at Fort Bliss, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Percy Mayeaux; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Adice Orr Sr., and paternal grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Furey, all of New Orleans.

Police Probe Two Break-ins

Paint, dishes, silverware and other household goods were reported stolen from the Easterbrook Street home of Mrs. Marie Storey last weekend. Mrs. Storey told Chief Deputy Sheriff Carl Garcia and Deputy Leonard Ladner she had just started to move into the house Saturday and had left the articles there for the weekend.

When she returned Monday morning the articles were gone. Nothing apparently was taken by burglars who broke a shed lock and removed a front porch screen door from the summer home of Mrs. Frank Burgess at Waveland Avenue, Waveland last weekend.

A neighbor notified Mrs. Burgess in New Orleans Monday of the break-in and she called Garcia, who investigated the report but found no other damage.

2 Television Sets Taken at Napoleon

Two Napoleon residents reported theft of two television sets and an iron last week to Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. Monday.

Mrs. Robert Dawsey said her house had been vacant between March 24 and Monday, when she found the set missing. She had been staying with relatives, she said.

Mrs. Marion Dawsey, mother-in-law of Mrs. Robert Dawsey, said a television set being delivered to her by her son-in-law, Whitman Rayburn, was stolen Saturday night from his car parked in front of E. C. Shubert's filling station and restaurant at the junction of State Routes 43 and 604. The set had been in the unlocked truck of the car.

Transfer 2 Men To Penitentiary

Two men sentenced to terms in the state penitentiary at Parchman were transferred there this week, Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner said today.

Nicholas Antonica will serve two concurrent three-year terms for two serious morals charges. Clyde P. Ellis, alias Clyde P. Broome, will serve one year on a bigamy charge.

"I would welcome an opportunity to discuss our highway problems fully with Coast Council provided they would desire me to do so," Smith concluded.

Ballistics Report Due in Sanford Shooting Probe

Sheriff's department is awaiting a ballistics report from Mississippi Highway Patrol on a bullet removed from shooting victim Johnny Sanford's abdomen Tuesday in Biloxi Veteran's Administration Hospital.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner said today he and his deputies are checking every lead but still had not found evidence of the identity of the man, described as being about 5 feet 10 inches tall, 200 pounds, between 50 and 55, and gray-haired, who shot the Rotten Bayou fishing camp owner March 24.

Sanford, a former Covington County Sheriff, reportedly hinted to his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Boykin of Biloxi, that his assailant could have been Buford Dees, 65, Collins farmer and former equipment salesman who was involved with Sanford in a shooting scrape over domestic quarrels in 1950.

The bullet removed from Sanford's person will be compared with a .38 caliber revolver found in Dees' home. He has denied being on the coast the date of the shooting and told officers he had not seen Sanford in six years, after his arrest late March 24 for investigation of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The attacker woke Sanford, sleeping alone in his cabin, at about 4:45 a.m. and fired twice when he opened the door. One slug hit the victim in the abdomen and the other crashed into a wall.

Miller Faces Nine Charges

A 25-year-old former Bay St. Louis man has been returned from Alabama to Harrison County to face nine criminal charges filed by a grand jury in 1956, Harrison County Sheriff J. J. Wittmann has reported.

Billy Leon Miller was indicted on three counts of burglary and six counts of burglary and larceny. Two of the charges allegedly were based on Hancock County robberies. Miller has been released from Kilby State Penitentiary near Montgomery where he has been serving a five-year term for burglary.

He was never arraigned in Harrison County because of the conviction and sentencing in Alabama at about the same time. Sheriff Wittmann said Miller waived extradition after Harrison County authorities requested that he be detained after his release from prison.

FBI Holds Youth In Theft of Car

A 15-year-old New Orleans boy, escaped from Milne Correction Home at New Orleans, was arrested Monday morning by New Orleans Police Department on suspicion of stealing a 1957 four-door Oldsmobile from Roger Heitzmann of 335 de Montluzin St.

Michael Vincent Calouatre, whose family lives at 525 St. Phillips Ave., New Orleans, told police he and another boy left the home last week and came to Bay St. Louis where they spent two days before stealing the car and returning to New Orleans late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. was informed of the theft and he notified Mississippi State Highway Patrol which sent bulletins to surrounding law enforcement agencies.

The youth is in custody of the FBI at New Orleans.

Waitress Beat At Pearlington

An elderly waitress was beat on the head and held at gunpoint while two youths and a young woman stole about $75 from the cash register of Pure Oil restaurant and filling station at Pearlington Saturday afternoon.

Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. said Mrs. Alynne Bourque, 61, was treated in Hancock County Hospital and released.

She told Sheriff Ladner that two men, about 22, one described as wearing a plaid shirt and the other as having black hair with long sideburns, entered the restaurant with a woman about 25, described as having on a green skirt and white shoes.

The woman apparently asked Mrs. Bourque for a dime in exchange for two nickels to play the juke box. Mrs. Bourque said records could be played with nickels, but the woman insisted, also asking if there was a phone, which there was not.

The waitress turned then to the cash register and was struck in the head by one of the youths. She was held at gunpoint while one youth took the money from the register.

The three left then in a 1958 chocolate colored Chevrolet. Mrs. Bourque flagged a ride into Pearlington where she phoned the sheriff's department. The robbery is being investigated by Sheriff Ladner, Deputy Latham Garriga and Constable Harlan Dean.

Promotions Told

The Nomads, an instrumental group, was first in the senior class. Its members are Harry Ward, Steve Krankey, Mickey Demoran, Greg Necaise and Billy Cox, all of Bay High. A pantomime won second for Mary Lee Duke, Geraldine Bourgeois, Gale Parker, also of Bay High.

TRIPLE TWINS—Three sets of twin calves were born last month on the Holly Bluff farm of James Crump. The calves and cows, shown above, are Bradfords, a cross of three-fourths Hereford and one-fourth Brahma. This is the first time since the herd was started in 1944 that twins have been born there said A. G. Harris, farm manager. Since the animals are not registered, the sire of the twins cannot be identified, but Harris said the calves probably all were sired by the same bull.

Sellers Dairy Cattle Raisers Get Boost from Artificial Breeding Plan

The Sellers Artificial Breeders Association, completing its first year of operation this month, has been a boon to dairymen in that community, according to County Agent Howard Simmons.

Benefitting in particular are those dairymen who have long been leery of the expense and danger of keeping a bull on the farm premises and those who want to improve the quality of their herds.

Busiest man in the association, which serves 24 to 45 dairy families in the county, is Thomas Shaw, young dairy raiser who is the group's trained inseminator.

Shaw estimates that 25 of the 204 cows bred since April 1, 1958, already have calved. The farmer pays $5 for the first insemination, $3 of which is kept by Shaw with the rest going to the Mississippi State Artificial Breeders Association at State College, which provides Shaw with a fresh supply of semen twice a week. Actually, with transportation costs in the 12-mile radius area, he makes almost no profit but is satisfied, he says, to be helping the growth of dairying in the area.

If the cow fails to conceive after the first breeding, she will be re-inseminated by Shaw free of charge. One cow, Shaw recalls, did not conceive until she had received seven injections.

The inseminator in such a widespread area is on almost the same kind of 24-hour call as the only doctor in a county community. A cow is in heat for a period of not more than 12 hours, he said, and is most apt to conceive toward the end of this period.

However, he remarked, it often is hard to convince the cow's owner that for his own best interests the animal should not be bred the moment she is discovered to be in heat.

Since only highest quality bulls are drawn from in the program, many dairy cattle owners who could not afford a high quality bull are able to immensely improve their herds by continuous use of the artificial breeding program, Simmons observes.

The expense of feeding a bull can amount to twice that of maintaining a cow, he added. This factor makes the $5 fee for each breeding economical to owners of small herds, especially, since a bull can easily serve 30 cows, while many herds in this county are smaller than that.

Some dairymen continue to maintain a bull but use the artificial breeding program services for their best cows, in order to keep the herd at a high standard. Danger of an angry, horned bull, especially to children who have not learned to keep their distance from animals, is a third advantage of the use of artificial insemination.

Mrs. Dorothy Harriel, lifelong Sellers resident who has been dairying since 1935 and was one of the first to raise dairy cattle here, is typical of those who have found artificial breeding more economical and satisfactory than maintenance of a live bull. A widow since 1950, Mrs. Harriel is helped considerably in maintaining her herd by her five-year-old, tow-headed grandson, Byrl.

"When we had a bull, it was necessary to enclose him with an electric fence, but even then it was dangerous since children were often around, and they just can't seem to help getting into places where they don't belong. I was continually nervous for fear something would happen."

The artificial breeding is no more expensive for Mrs. Harriel, who used to feed her bull the same amount of feed as her cows, with the exception of extra hay for the bull.

A further advantage, she finds, is that conception is much more likely to occur.

YOUNG COWHAND—Five-year-old Patsy Harriel shows Thomas Shaw an artificially bred calf belonging to his grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Harriel. Shaw is inseminator for the Sellers Artificial Breeders Association, which will observe its first anniversary in April.

'Spanish Hearing' Shetlands Complicate Life for Clarks

Care of three Argentine-born Shetland ponies owned by the J. W. Clark family of Commager Boulevard is complicated by the fact that the animals will respond only to Spanish commands.

The animals were purchased recently by Capt. Clark near Buenos Aires for the 11-acre farm to which he and Mrs. Clark and their three daughters moved from New Orleans last fall.

Captain Clark, vice president of a shipping firm, began his livestock collection with a part-quarterhorse mare and three goats.

Two of the five ponies originally purchased - an overly ferocious stallion and a lame-legged mare in danger of being inadvertently harmed by careless children - were not kept. The remaining three have made the Clark grounds a mecca for neighborhood friends of the girls, Ann 14; Cappy, 11, and Susan, 9.

Although normally quite gentle, the excitement of children unused to the techniques of handling animals occasionally causes a pony to kick up her heels in desperation. This is the reason for the standing rule against getting behind any of the animals.

Perhaps the most amusing experience with the ponies was the discovery of the departed stallion's affection for the quarterhorse mare, apparently uninterested in the four small mares of his own breed, he had to be forcibly convinced that Kitty was not for him.

Ann is best at handling both the ponies and the other animals, according to Mrs. Clark, who says her eldest daughter seems to have intuitive knack for soothing butting goats and rearing ponies. All the children, however, are completely without fear in their treatment of the animals.

Only member of the Clark family not pleased by the growing population of the white barn is Tippy, a black cocker spaniel, who until the conversion from city dwelling, was the pampered pet of children and parents alike.

Definite signs of an inferiority complex, with manifestations of insecurity have been noted in the dog, who lately has been ignored by all but an occasional adult who recognizes the finer qualities of an animal which cannot even be ridden.

Soil Conservation

By HUGH SANFORD
There are certain principles to remember in deciding the amounts of fertilizer to apply to pastures. Nitrogen stimulates grasses more than it does legumes; if legumes are out growing the grass, add nitrogen; if grass is out growing legumes, hold off on nitrogen. Phosphate and potash stimulates the growth of legumes more than it does the grass. By decreasing the amount of nitrogen and adding more phosphate and potash, the legumes will grow faster.

The application of the correct amounts of phosphate and potash with a small amount of nitrogen to start the pastures off early, followed with top dressing of 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen as needed, is highly favored as the best pasture fertilizer program.

The surest way to get the most out of every penny spent for fertilizer is to have the soil tested in order to use the correct amounts of fertilizer. In doing this, you can get the correct amounts and apply when the plants need it most.

You can get the soil sample boxes from the Extension Service office. The Extension Service will assist you with your soil testing needs upon request.

Six Assigned Roles After Little Theater Tryouts

Six roles for the Little Theater's next offering, Roomful of Roses, were assigned during tryouts Monday night before Director Paul Lewis and Mrs. John Husband, production manager.

Those chosen were Mrs. W. P. McCutcheon, Mrs. Gary Taylor, Mrs. Lloyd Griffith, Diane Taylor, Ann Clark and Steve Wilson, the latter three to fill the young people's parts. It will be the initial Little Theater appearance for Steve, currently in the Bay High School senior play, and Diane.

More than 25 hopefuls attended the reading and those not cast will be asked to help with backstage duties such as prompting, lighting and stage crew work.

Roles yet to be filled are for two males in the 35 to 45 year range and a seven-year-old boy. Persons interested in reading for those parts should get in touch with Mrs. Husband.

Rehearsals for the play, to be presented the first week in June, will begin at 7 p.m. Friday with the director commuting from New Orleans.

Lewis comes to Bay St. Louis from New Orleans and Connecticut.

THE PRICE IS RIGHT

In making this, my announcement, as a candidate for Sheriff of Hancock County, I permit me to first declare, with no exceptions that I am completely unattached and an independent candidate for office. It is my sincere aim in this campaign to solicit the support of you the voters to win election solely on my merits and past accomplishments.

I do not deem it necessary to make all sorts of promises about what I will or will not do, if elected. The duties of the Sheriff are plainly prescribed by law and the only course of action which must be followed is one of fair and impartial administration of these duties for all of the citizens.

However, there is one promise I must make at this time and that is to administer this just government for all of the people. There will definitely be on all night, a jailer and a patrol car, to meet the immediate needs of anyone who requires duties of law enforcement. Plans are now being drawn for a youth program but as this date is incomplete and will be published in the very near future.

Having been a law enforcement officer of this County for many years I am willing to Member, Tennessee-Mississippi, upon the record made by Sheriff's and Peace Officers Association, throughout this election.

time. It has always been my policy to run upon my merits and not the demerits of my fellow candidate or candidates who might run against me. I have never indulged in any type of "mud-slinging" and will not at this late date in life begin something that I have always disapproved.

Four years ago I was a candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector and was defeated by only a few votes for this office. With this past support I feel confident of success but realize full well that I need the support of all citizens. I sincerely hope that the voters of this County will see fit to move me from second place to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County.

In addition to my experience of eighteen years as a law enforcement officer I would like to further add at this time that I am a member of the American Legion being a veteran of World War No. 1 and a Veteran of Foreign Wars and also a member of the Forty and Eight Society.

I earnestly and sincerely solicit the support of every citizen of Hancock County and assure each and everyone a fair and impartial enforcement of the law. Respectfully Submitted

Home Agent Notes . . .

BY GLORIA MAULON

PIECE GOODS BUYING

If you're one of the many sew-it-yourself dressmakers, you'll be interested in these suggestions on buying piece goods. First, check the thread count. Is it close and even as 80 square print? This means 80 threads to the inch.

Combed yarn is better than carded yarn. Look for the label sanforized or pre-shrunk and know the fabric you buy will not shrink more than 1 per cent. Check on color fastness to sun and washing and crease resistance.

Observe whether it is mercerized for high sheen and greater strength. Is it vat dyed for durable colors?

Inspect stripes, checks and plaids to be sure that they are symmetrical - that they are the same design to the right and left as well as up and down. Plaids, stripes and checks should be woven. If printed, they likely will not be on the straight grain of the cloth.

Select a print that is in good proportion to the size of garment to be made.

Avoid novelty fabrics; they are usually too expensive. You don't want fabrics that have long floats of thread, either on the right or wrong side, that are loosely woven, or that fray badly.

EGGS ELEGANT

How's that for a fancy title for a breakfast or brunch egg dish?

Egg Elegant are golden egg-cheese puffs in petal-like bread cups.

To make bread cups: Trim crusts, butter both sides of enriched bread slices. Gently press each slice into a custard cup and line with a slice of Canadian bacon.

Into each cup, pour a 1/4 cup measured of the following mixture: 1 1/2 cups beaten eggs, 1/3 cup milk, 1/2 cup grated swiss cheese, salt and pepper. Place custard cups in a shallow pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) about 25 minutes. Remove from custard cup to serve.

CRISP, GREEN CABBAGE

You'll find nice green heads of cabbage coming to market. For as little as a dime you can buy a lot of good eating and good nutrition.

Cabbage is chock-full of Vitamin C. It has Vitamins A, B and Minerals, too.

From one pound of cabbage, you can get four or five servings of cooked vegetables. Raw, a pound of cabbage gives you eight half-cup servings.

PRUNING TIME

As soon as your spring flowering shrubs are through blooming, get out your pruning shears. It's time to prune and shape them just as soon as the flowers fade. In this group of shrubs are Oriental magnolia, spirea, flowering quince and forsythia.

Most shrubs are best if you prune and train them to a natural form. Leave all shrubs as natural looking as possible.

Dawson, Architect, Commerce Building, Gulfport, Mississippi, upon deposit of $40.00 from prime bidders for each set, to be refunded upon return of each complete set in good condition within 10 days after opening of bids.

A charge of $40.00 will be made against the deposit of prime contractors who secure plans and specifications and fail to submit a bid. A charge of $40.00 in a separate check, not refundable, will be required for each set from prime bidders in excess of one, to cover the cost of reproduction. Material suppliers may also secure plans and specifications at cost of reproduction as above stated.

Proposals must be submitted on the form as shown in the Specifications and must be accompanied by a Bid Guarantee of at least five percent (5%) of the base bid, all in accordance with the General Conditions of the Contract and/or modifications thereof.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest acceptable bidder within the funds available, and the Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality.

Mashburn Starts As Pitcher For Stanislaus' Nine Opener

Pat Mashburn, sophomore from Hammond, La., was scheduled to start as pitcher when the Stanislaus College baseball players opened their 1959 season this afternoon against Gulfport High in that city.

Coach James Zimmerman, announcing the starting lineup yesterday, said he expected the contest would turn into simply a practice session for the Rockshaws who have only had one workout to date. He explained the late end of the spring football practice had held up the baseball training. While the boys were out Tuesday, the field was too wet to use yesterday. Easter vacation also intervened.

Pat's brother, Jack, a senior, is slated to start as catcher. Brant Seward or Gordon Pratt will be at first base with E. J. Babin at second and Jim Millene at third. Joe Gerdas is to be at shortstop while Ronnie Jackson or Louie Jacob of Bay St.

Among others making the trip to Gulfport are Stephen Cook, transfer student to whom Zimmerman is looking for a fine showing at pitcher, and another Bay boy, Herman Jacobi. Herman has been under a physician's care recently for a neck ailment and when his strength is regained the coach plans to use him at third base and in the pitching slot.

The first home game will be against Pass Christian High School here Saturday. The Stanislaus outfit will go to Pass High Tuesday and meets Long Beach here next Thursday as the season gets into full swing.

Pass Club Golfers Host To Inter-City

Women golfers at Pass Christian Golf Club will be hostesses for the inter-city tournament next Tuesday. Mrs. Dorothy David, tournament chairman, has announced. Team play will begin after coffee and doughnuts are served in the morning. Mrs. W. L. McFarland is in charge of luncheon arrangements.

In the weekly ladies' day competition Tuesday, Mrs. Daris Merritt won top honors with a low net of 76 and Mrs. Earlene Russo was runner-up with a net 79. Since the two low scorers had won other prizes in March the award went to Miss Ann Liversedge with a net 80.

Mrs. Stella Gamard took nine-hole division honors with a net 40. Low putts went to Mrs. Russo with 14.

In the monthly match series, Mrs. David defeated Mrs. Meredith Airy, 4 and 3, while Mrs. Merritt triumphed over Mrs. Russo, 3 and 2.

Club professional Alex Cunningham completed a series of free group lessons on Tuesday.

Coast Tennis Fans Organize

Organized tennis is expected to come to the Gulf Coast this summer with plans under way for formation of a Gulf Coast Tennis Association.

A nuclear group of net enthusiasts will hold their second meeting to discuss the organization Friday night at the Sun-Motel, Biloxi.

Efforts will be made to secure funds for a club house and tennis courts. Officers may be elected at the session.

Leaders in the movement noted that the coast is lacking in facilities for this sport, particularly for local players. They added that the tourist trade also would benefit from addition of such facilities.

Among those attending the initial meeting at Friendship House were Dr. A. Howell Hyde, John P. Gimma and Fred Marino.

County Agent Notes

By HOWARD SIMMONS

EAR WORM CONTROL

Commercial producers and home gardeners may have from 50 to 100 per cent of ears damaged by corn earworms. The control of these worms is a must for commercial growers.

When you see the first silk in the garden or field, spray with a recommended commercial material. DDT and Mineral Oil commercial prepared is preferred. For hand sprayer treating individual ears: Mix 1 to 9 parts water to cover one acre.

For power equipment, dilute 1 to 2 parts water to cover, apply at pressure of 100 pounds.

Home gardeners may use commercially prepared mixture. Follow directions on label, or mix as follows: For one quart of homemade mixture three tablespoonsful of 25 per cent DDT emulsifiable concentrate, three tablespoonsful of tasteless mineral oil, mixing thoroughly. Then slowly add one quart of water while stirring.

This material can be applied by either a hand sprayer or power sprayer with the silks of each ear given a light application. It may be necessary to make four or five applications three days apart for more effective control. As an example for home gardeners 1 pint of the commercial mixture or 1/2 gallon of the homemade mixture is sufficient for a few short rows; 2 1/2 to 3 gallons of commercial prepared emulsifiable will be sufficient to treat one acre about three times. Read the directions on the container carefully and do not feed the green ear to livestock after spraying. Use every precaution for the protection of livestock.

CORN PRODUCTION

Don't forget to do a good job of preparing the land. Use enough fertilizer and adapted hybrid seed corn.

Then don't forget about weed control. Check with your county agent about using Simazine as a pre-emergence weed contr measure. Then plan to spray your corn at layby time with 2,4-D to control the vines, morning glories and cockleburbs. Spray the corn before it tassels.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Are you past retirement age? If you men are over 65 and women over 62 you may qualify for a monthly social security benefit in any month in which you earn $100 or less in wages, regardless of your total earnings for the year.

BULK MILK TANKS

Here are some advantages of bulk milk tanks. Advantages: The drudgery of handling cans is eliminated. Labor requirements are reduced. Lower hauling costs with every-other-day pick up. You sell your milk at the farm. You can check tests and weights if you wish. You may reduce losses on weight and butter fat. You may receive a premium. Milk is cooled quickly to 40 degrees F., which should result in lower bacteria count and higher quality. And you will pay closer attention to milk quality.

Burrow Sees Good County Attendance At MEC Meeting

A large turnout from Hancock County to the Mississippi Economic Council's 10th anniversary meeting in Jackson on April 16-17 is expected, according to Joe B. Burrow of Bay St. Louis, MEC area director. "Those desiring tickets are asked to purchase them direct from the MEC's headquarters in Jackson," he said. "Tickets are required only to events involving meals."

"There is no registration fee, and the free registration badge is admittance to the two general morning sessions."

Tickets to the noon luncheons are $3.50 each, and $4.50 each to the banquets. Checks should be made to the MEC. Tickets are available to all events, except the Hometown Development banquet on the 16th, which is sold out. Orders should indicate functions to attend.

Blood

ing and support is needed not only from the Bay-Waveland area but outlying sections of the county as well.

Only 101 pints of blood were donated at the last drawing in May, 1958, she noted. With heavy needs for blood transfusions in the county, she emphasized that the citizens have a responsibility to contribute a much larger supply.

Hotel Reed....

hotel will continue until April 30 and will be extended on a limited basis after the new management takes over, Dr. McFarland said. He has been informed by the state that he may continue to house transients there and operate the dining room for public use which he expects to do, at least until the capacity is reached in the patient load. Quarters for regular guests will be rented under a package arrangement with a fixed monthly fee. The doctor said he is encouraged by the number of applications already received at his office even though the negotiations were not formally publicized.

It is understood that the state hopes to use this operation as a model for retirement facilities contemplated elsewhere in Mississippi.

The charter for the new operators, Gulf View Haven, Inc., was recorded last Thursday in the Hancock County clerk of courts office, listing a total corporate stock at $83,375.

Owners, in addition to Dr. McFarland, are J. C. Ellis of Pass Christian who has been elected president; Mrs. Ada Elizabeth Carter of Natchez; Walter J. Phillips and Ethel H. Cox, both of Bay St. Louis. The charter states as the purpose of the organization providing a nursing home for convalescent and rest for persons needing services other than those offered by a medical hospital.

Hogge purchased the Reed, one of the oldest hotels on the coast, from the Howard LeTissiers in early 1957. The LeTissiers had owned it for more than 16 years.

Thrash Gets DFC For Crash Role

The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded Monday to Capt. Keith L. Thrash, Bay St. Louis native, whose role in the crash of the RB-47 jet he was piloting in the Arkansas mountains last week saved the lives of all crew members.

The award was made by Gen. J. P. McConnell, commander of the 2nd Air Force at Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., where Captain Thrash was taken for treatment of injuries suffered when he bailed out of the plane at 30,000 feet seconds before it exploded.

The Bay man suffered a fractured vertebra in the mishap and has been fitted with a cast covering his entire body which he will wear for six weeks. After that he will be fitted with a brace for another six weeks.

Captain Thrash is to return Friday to North Little Rock where he has been stationed with the Air Force. His mother, Mrs. Ruth Woods Luderbach, will fly there this weekend to see him and his family and be present for the officer's birthday celebration Monday.

The citation reads in part: Capt. Thrash distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism while participating in a flight as instructor-pilot. He demonstrated outstanding professionalism during an inflight explosion and fire which resulted in uncontrollable flight conditions. The self-control demonstrated by Capt. Thrash and his calm and accurate analysis of the situation permitted the unusual achievement of five crew members to survive this emergency.

"The keen foresight, devotion to duty, and initiative displayed by Captain Thrash reflect great credit upon himself and upon the United States Air Force."
